

Forex Outbreak – Super Saturday

CCIArrow Indicator + Easy Installer.

Hey guys!

It's Andy.

I'm giving this away today, and Super Saturday will soon be 'Freebie Friday', but we couldn't do it on Friday due to all the hussle and bustle around this launch!

How to use:

Run the easy installer (.exe file) and it will do it all for you!

I've also put the .ex4 into this package, encase you wish to install it manually. To install manually, copy the CCIarrows.ex4 into your Metatrader folder. C:\Program Files\ (METATRADER)\experts\indicators.

-----
CCI Arrows MetaTrader indicator — will show you where the CCI cross with the zero occur (marking it with the red or blue arrow) to help you decide whether to go short or long. It has a minimal lag and a relatively high accuracy. This simple indicator is a good choice for those traders that prefer to keep it simple and hate complex indicators.

CCI_Period (default = 21) — the period of the CCI that is used in this indicator. The higher is the value the more lags this indicator but less false signals occur.

Please see the next page...

As you can see, this indicator gives direct signals for buy (blue arrow pointing up) and sell (red arrow pointing down). You should know that you do NOT enter the trade if the signal is contradicting the current general trend.

If it's uptrend and you get a blue arrow — go long, if you get a red arrow — do nothing (just close your long position if you had one open); if it's downtrend and you get blue arrow — close short position but don't go long, if you get red arrow — go short; if chart goes sideways and you get blue or red arrow — feel free to go long or short respectively.

I recommend setting your stop-loss directly at the level where the arrow is drawn (it's displayed if you point your mouse at it). I also recommend using trailing stop with this indicator.

Enjoy ☺

Andy Shumer.